

FOR SALE

Anything to Sell?

Instead of putting out a sign, or relying on your friends or consulting the business brokers.....

USE A JOURNAL FOR SALE "WANT."

A MILLION PEOPLE WILL SEE IT.

WEATHER.

FOR NEW YORK CITY:
Showers in early morning, followed by fair and cooler.

For New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Eastern Pennsylvania: Showers in the morning, followed by fair and cooler; brisk southwest winds.

The highest temperature yesterday was 69 degrees at 11 a. m.

The lowest temperature yesterday was 59 degrees at 12:00 a. m.

JOURNAL POLL SHOWS VAN WYCK SURE BY 53,000

A Careful, Impartial and Comprehensive Canvass Indicates That He Will Have 86,000 Plurality in This City---On That Basis He Will Carry the State by the Above Plurality.

DANFORTH IS SURE OF PARTY VICTORY.

I have just returned from a trip up the State. The sentiment in favor of the Democratic ticket is steadily growing. A careful canvass is being made, and the results thus far secured show that Van Wyck and his running mates will be victorious. The canal counties are particularly enthusiastic for reform.—ELIOT DANFORTH, in a statement to the Journal.

THE JOURNAL has had 150 keen, hustling men at work since last Wednesday morning getting from the voters of New York their preference for the gubernatorial candidates.

They covered first the "L" roads, street cars, ferries and the districts in which they personally knew most men. The results up to Sunday showed a preference for Van Wyck so opposed to the prevailing betting odds that the canvassers were sent out on Monday morning to assigned districts in the business half of town. The proportion of Van Wyck preference came in in the same ratio. That evening the men were sent to cover the high-class residential sections of New York and Brooklyn. Yesterday morning their cards showed exactly the same proportion.

VAN WYCK.
Date.	Manhattan.	Brooklyn.	Queens.	Bronx.	Richmond.	Total.	TOTAL DAILY VOTE.
October 5.....	2545	600	10	22	7	3184	October 5.....	5804
October 6.....	8060	1512	15	38	9	9634	October 6.....	15013
October 7.....	4335	3158	192	44	4	7733	October 7.....	13494
October 8.....	3067	244	28	32	128	3499	October 8.....	9734
October 9.....	6081	2034	11	106	400	8632	October 9.....	15138
October 10.....	7447	3989	10	218	90	11754	October 10.....	20450
October 11.....	7377	3139	51	65	17	10649	October 11.....	19178
Totals.....	38912	14676	317	525	655	55085	Total.....	98811

ROOSEVELT.
October 5.....	1988	522	17	15	3	2545	GRAND TOTAL VOTE.
October 6.....	4460	842	25	38	8	5373	Van Wyck.....	55,085
October 7.....	2924	2037	116	7	5	5089	Roosevelt.....	37,874
October 8.....	2050	2781	165	158	212	5366	McDonald.....	5,852
October 9.....	3641	1276	7	86	194	5204	Total.....	98,811
October 10.....	4189	2558	11	46	106	6910
October 11.....	5193	2111	51	7	25	7387
Totals.....	24445	12127	392	357	553	37874

M'DONALD.
October 5.....	67	8	0	0	0	75	Estimated vote on basis of
October 6.....	1	5	0	0	0	6	500,000 ballots cast in Greater
October 7.....	490	173	8	1	0	672	New York:
October 8.....	417	333	16	51	52	869	Van Wyck.....	275,425
October 9.....	835	378	1	12	76	1302	Roosevelt.....	189,370
October 10.....	1285	466	0	14	21	1786	McDonald.....	29,260
October 11.....	760	354	13	14	1	1142	Van Wyck's plurality.	86,055
Totals.....	3855	1717	38	92	150	5852
Grand totals.....	67212	28520	747	974	1358	98811

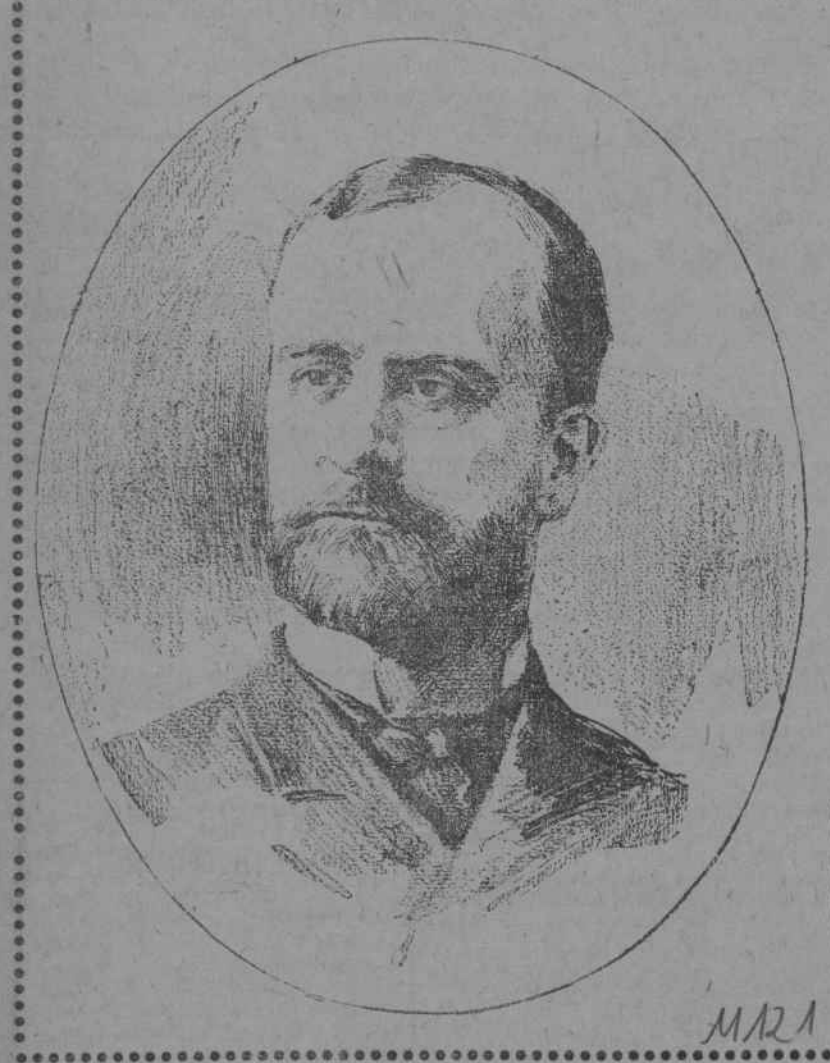

MURPHY PREDICTS A LANDSLIDE.

I fully expect a Democratic landslide in November. Public sentiment is growing in favor of the Democratic candidates every day. I do not exaggerate in stating that this sentiment is shared by the large body of independent voters who acknowledge no party control. These men will vote for Van Wyck because they are convinced the State has been imposed upon and looted.—SENATOR MURPHY, in a statement to the Journal.

The poll of 1898 has been made with every precaution. Every five canvassers were watched by a special agent, and every signature turned in was tested by the city directories. The cards are now in the Journal office filed away according to boroughs and ready for the inspection of any vacillating voter.

Every district in New York has been covered in the canvass. From the Bronx to Brownsville and from Washington Heights to Tottenville, the consensus of the voters' intentions has been gathered. Hardly a man accosted by the Journal's canvassers refused to sign his name. Every one seemed delighted with the Journal's enterprise, and entered fully into the spirit of the undertaking.

Just as a small example of what the poll foretells, it may be stated here that Nathan Frank bet yesterday $800 to $1,000 on Van Wyck with a fellow bookmaker.

Augustus Van Wyck, the Democratic Nominee.

On Sunday the records of general canvassing showed:

Van Wyck.... 44,436
Roosevelt.... 30,847
McDonald.... 4,710

On Monday afternoon the result of the poll among the business men gave this result:

Van Wyck..... 4,342
Roosevelt..... 3,168
McDonald..... 463

The result of Monday evening's canvass in the residential districts

Total Number of Voters Who Expressed Their Choice for Governor, 98,811.

Theodore Roosevelt, the Republican Nominee.

probable vote of 500,000 will bring Justice Van Wyck to the city limits with a plurality of 86,000, a figure that the up-State Republicans cannot overcome by any juggling, fair or foul.

Governor Flower, in his famous fight with Fassett in 1891, left the now Greater New York limits with only 70,800 votes ahead of his opponent. When these figures came out, the Republicans whooped in glee, but Mr. Flower, as it turned out later in the evening, beat Mr. Fassett in the whole State by 47,937. And it must be remembered that this fight was on purely party lines. There was then no canal scandal smelling to high Heaven, the Davenport army was a small thing compared to McCullagh's crowd of falsely accoutred thugs; there was no question of a Press-Gag bill, and there was no attempt to appoint a lot of high-salaried commissioners to increase the tax rate.

53,000 Plurality.

Still, leaving all these new and important issues aside and returning to the purely party figures of that year, it becomes a simple question in proportion to figure that if Flower left New York City with 71,000 plurality and beat Fassett out in the State by 48,000 in a total of 1,100,000 votes, Van Wyck leaving the metropolis with 86,000 plurality should beat Roosevelt in a State vote of 1,400,000 by 53,000 plurality.

Add to this the votes that the independent contingent will cast against the candidate supporting canal steals, exorbitant taxation, the right of search and invasion of the sanctity of the home by armed toughs, and the suppression of the following figures show, the 140,000 votes lost thereby were divided between Van Wyck and Low and Tracy in the proportion indicated by the Journal's early poll. The official results showed:

Van Wyck Received 55,085, Roosevelt 37,874 and M'Donald 5,852 Votes in the Canvass.

Henry M. McDonald, the Chicago Platform Nominee.

Van Wyck.... 233,752
George, Jr.... 20,386
Low..... 146,821
Tracy..... 100,998

So, just as the Journal's poll in 1897 foretold the election of Mayor Van Wyck, in 1898 it predicts the election of Governor Van Wyck.

These men are the keenest in the field of picking odds, and when it is remembered that up to three days ago the betting on Roosevelt was 2 to 1, the change in odds chimes in wonderfully well with the results of the Journal's poll.

The keen interest taken in the election makes such an authority as the new leader of Tammany Hall, John F. Carroll, fix the Greater New York vote at 526,000, the same as in the hot Mayoralty fight last year. In that event, Justice Van Wyck, according to the figures of the Journal's poll, should carry the city by 90,000 and the State by 55,000.